East Branch Is Praised

Residents of East Arlington young and old attended the open house at the newly remodeled East Branch Library on New Year's Day. They came in steady numbers from four to eight, and many lingered in evident enjoyment of the atmosphere created in the new quarters by the light woodwork, the pale green walls, and the colorful Paul Revere draperies.

"A place we can really be proud of," one East resident phrased it.

The new branch is three times as large in size as before, with separate sections for children and young people and ample space for adults. Easy chairs upholstered in plastic to harmonize with the colorful draperies give a feeling of comfort and informality, while low tables for the young children and study tables for adults supply space for the student. The soft, clear lighting came in for particular praise.

On hand to greet all visitors were Miss Judith Stromdahl, librarian, and Mrs. Evelyn Colcord, East Branch librarian, assisted by Mrs. Muriel Chandler of the Main Library.

Many of the visitors had special greetings for Mrs. Colcord, who has been in charge of the East Branch since joining the Robbins Library staff in January, 1950. She is a graduate of the School of Library Science, New Jersey College for Women.

Rosebe O. Elliott, chairman of the board of trustees, also greeted visitors, as did other trustees during the afternoon.

The branch will be open a number of additional hours as a result of public demand. The new schedule of hours is as follows: Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, 1 to 6 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m.; Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday, 9 a.m. to 12 noon and 1 to 6 p.m.

Chairmen, Attention!

The local March of Dimes committee announced this week that it has set up a speakers bureau and can provide to clubs and organizations a complete program on "Polio" and "March of Dimes" information for January meetings. Information can be obtained by calling headquarters any night between 7 and 9 p.m. The number is AR 5-1011.

NEW candidate for Selectman (3 yr. term) is said to be William P. Murray, 130 Gardner st. Already declared for that term are Alderson, Florenza, Hurd, and Fuller.

NEXT VISIT OF THE BLOOD-MOBILE will be Tuesday, Feb. 3, at St. John's Parish Hall from 1 to 7 p.m. For appointments, call Mrs. Russell Hamlet, AR 5-4129, hall.

Killed In Korea

The announcement from the Navy of the death of their son in a plane crash over Korea waters saddened the year's end for G. E. Haigh, proprietor of a filling station at 1534 Massachusetts ave., and his wife.

The Haighs now live in Lexington but they made their home here for many years, while Haigh was an employee at the Town Hall. Their son attended Arlington High for three years.

Lack of Replacements

The day before receiving the official telegram telling of the death of Aviation Machinist George Edward Haigh, they had had a letter from him saying he was "dogtired" because he had been flying patrol duty 18 hours a day because of lack of replacements. The letter was written three days before the crash that killed him and nine of his crew mates.

Another letter received after the death notice was written Christmas Day and said that he had opened his packages Christmas afternoon aboard the plane and had shared the contents with the other fourteen crew members because only two of them had received packages.

A sister, Mrs. Dora Carr, was employed by the Arlington National Bank for three and a half years.

Was To Marry

With his parents when the telegram came was Haigh's fiancée, Louise Mello, 24, of Warwick, R. I., who was to have married him this June.

Young Haigh, oldest of eight children, had been in the Navy for eight and a half years, entering the service directly after his graduation from high school.

Jenkins-Larsen

Miss Cynthia Hope Larsen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Einar T. Larsen of 113 Gray st. and Stow, Mass., was married to Second Lieut. Paul Asaph Jenkins Jr., son of Capt. and Mrs. Paul Asaph Jenkins of Brooklyn, N. Y. and Dixfield, Me., on Dec. 27.

Mrs. Paul Asaph Jenkins Jr. at home. The Rev. John Heldt, pastor of the Pleasant Street Congregational Church, performed the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina length traditional gown of nylon lace, and the veil of her sister, Nancy Larsen Bailey. She was attended by her twin sister, Miss Helen Marie Larsen, who wore a delicate pink changeable tulle gown with a headpiece of fresh flowers.

Edmund Lewis of Fairhaven, Massachusetts and the University of Maple, served as best man.

Visiting Nurses Play
Santa Claus To Needy

Arlington's visiting nurses played Santa Claus to needy families in the holiday season, assisted by clubs and townspeople.

The nurses distributed a Christmas food basket supplied by Let Us Lend a Hand; a carton of 30 toys brought in by the Rev. John Nicol Mark; 10 Christmas baskets from the Garden Club; and a complete turkey dinner from a Greek sorority.

One contribution was received from a young father who appeared at Arlington Visiting Nursing Association headquarters, 13a Medford st., and left a sum of money saying "My little girl won't be needing anything this Christmas. Maybe you know some youngsters who do?"

Miss Dorothy Leavitt, supervisor, asked for his name so a letter of appreciation could be sent to him. "He shook his head and left, obviously close to tears," Miss Leavitt said.

Chamber Opposes New
Russell School Site

In a meeting held Tuesday night with four representatives and one state senator present, the directors of the Arlington Chamber of Commerce discussed many of the foremost problems now facing Arlington.

Included among the topics discussed were the extension of the M.T.A. subway service to Arlington, the future of Arlington business, off-street parking, and the construction of a new Russell school.

Definite stands were taken by the Chamber on some of the topics and are expected to be put into more substantial form as articles in the Town Warrant.

Opposes School Site

During later discussion of the possible rebuilding of Russell school, Chamber President Leonard Wood, turning his chair over to Vice President John Easton, said that the creation of a shopping center in the Massachusetts ave., Mystic and Medford streets area was a distinct possibility. He voiced opposition to the erection of the new Russell school on its present location as not putting the land to its best use. In the same vein George A. Harris proposed a more aggressive attack on the parking problem.

He suggested more off-street parking could be developed, the cost of which could be met by a betterment tax on landlords and tenants. "The program would not cost the homeowner one cent," he said.

As a result of the discussions, a unanimous vote was made that the Chamber insert an article in the Warrant for a study of the use of property in the business areas of the Town, incorporating Mr. Harris' idea of a study of off-street parking.

Keenan Explains
Much of the early part of the meeting was taken up with a consideration of the extension of subway service to Arlington, and Rep. Keenan gave a full talk on the present status of the problem, saying that the Metropolitan

Citizens Group Plans
Open Candidates Night

A candidates night was planned last night by the Committee of Citizens for Town Manager, as part of its educational program. The date for the public affair at Junior High East will be Feb. 17.

Since the Advocate was active in supporting the Town Manager Act, which won by referendum last November, it was asked to be co-sponsor of the project. When contacted by the Committee, Manager Leonard Wood accepted.

All Candidates

Since all town officers, whether under direct control of the Manager or not, are strongly affected by the Act, all candidates will be invited to speak that night if it is planned. It is said, however, the emphasis will be on candidates for Selectmen. The Selectmen, some time after election, will pick the manager.

Last night's meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Milton Anderson of Old Mystic st.

It was also learned yesterday that the League of Women Voters plans to hold a candidates-for-Selectmen night for its own membership in Library Hall. A Transit Authority is now in the process of making a survey of possible routes for the extension. Top cost of the survey is set at $450,000, he said, and, though extension to Lexington is not in the near future, the MTA survey is considering Lexington in its planning. Mr. Gott stressed the idea that the MTA must be able to pay its own way.

Senator Robert Campbell was present, as were Rep. Henry E. Keenan, Rep. Hollis Gott, Rep. James Doncaster and Rep. Joseph McEvoy. Also participating were many of the leading business and professional men of Arlington.

A CONFERENCE on the proposed MDC incinerator, near the Waterdown Arsenal, will be held in Belmont Town Hall, Sunday, Jan. 18, at 2:30 p.m. Officials say it is not a closed meeting.

Shipmates Aboard The "Desi-Lu"

Here, minus makeup and the hectic atmosphere of their enormously successful TV show, are Lucy and Desi Arnaz, relaxing aboard their boat, the Desi-Lu. One of video's handomest and funniest couples, they please 20,000,000 fans each week with their "I Love Lucy" shenanigans. Their personal life, which closely parallels the moods of the Ricardo family they portray on TV, includes a ranch house near Los Angeles, their 11-year old daughter, Lucie Desi, and another date with the work on January 19th. A six-page cover story in the January issue of Cosmopolitan magazine traces the Arnaz' skyrocketing career since the former Cuban aristocrat-turned-band leader met the ex-chorus girl, soda-jerker and dress model. Explaining the lovely Lucy's switch from movie siren roles to blackened teeth, baggy pants and screwball hair-dos, the article quotes her as saying, "I don't know why, but I just love it when they laugh."

New Chevrolet At Mirak's, Inc.

A new Chevrolet that will create "entirely new conceptions of automotive beauty and performance" was promised tomorrow by John Mirak, president of the Mirak Chevrolet, Inc.

Mr. Mirak made his statement following a meeting with company representatives in Boston where 1953 plans were revealed to an enthusiastic audience of dealers from this area.

"When we were invited to attend we were told this would be one of Chevrolet's most important business conferences," he continued. "This was conclusively borne out by developments. Not only were we shown the most exciting product in my experience as a dealer, but the speakers made clear that the company through its newspaper advertising and promotion would give the model unprecedented backing."

Mr. Mirak said the program should answer any doubts about the future of business.

"A company with the marketing knowledge of Chevrolet does not reinvest the tremendous capital required for a program of this nature unless it is firmly convinced of sound sales possibilities," he pointed out. "It is quite apparent from the product that the largest automobile company in the world is anticipating one of its biggest years in 1953."

The new Chevrolet will be on display at the Mirak Chevrolet showroom on Friday, Jan. 9.

Presented in the fall was a concert by the Boston Community Orchestra, and scheduled for the spring is another Clare Tree Major play, "King Midas."

Tickets for "Heidi" will be on sale in the schools on Wednesday. In anticipation of a large turnout for this ever-popular story, three performances are planned for 10 a.m., 1 p.m. and 3:15 p.m.

Presenting - - -

Arlingtonians of the Year 1952

JOSEPH W. WALKER, 167 Highland Ave.

Mr. Walker has been active in Scouting for a number of years but during the past year has performed services beyond "the call of duty." While working hard as a member of the Silver Turtles to prepare for "Music Under the Stars," he was organizing the residential teams for the Red Feather Drive. Under his leadership the residential division reached 100 per cent of its goal for the first time in five years. He is the Cub Scout leader of the town.

MRS. MILTON BRETSCHER, 48 Melrose Street

One of East Arlington's hard-working residents, Mrs. Bretscher's many activities in the Town which won her this nomination, have been centered for the most part around the children. An active member of the Hardy P.T.A. of which she is a past president and a present board member, she is chairman of the education committee of the League of Women Voters. In this capacity she is interested in all the school problems of the Town. She is superintendent of the Sunday school of the Trinity Baptist Church.

FREDERIC J. EDMUNDS, 24 Hillside Ave.

An active town meeting member, he formed the Audio Visual Association known to many as the Children's Playhouse at the Park Avenue Congregational Church, and was founder of the Junior Achievement Bank, known countrywide. His work with young people has "advanced the training of boys and girls one more notch." He was chairman of the Arlington Eisenhower Club and won his candidate's nomination here in the primaries by careful organization and enthusiasm.

EDMUND L. FROST, 74 Old Mystic Street

Retiring chairman of the Board of Selectmen, he was nominated for his three years service on the Town's Highest administrative board, working always for what he felt to be the best interests of the Town. While one of the Town's leading businessmen, Mr. Frost has always found time for civic work. He was active in the Red Feather drive in several years as well as chairman of the Red Cross War Fund drives in 1943 and 1944. He was Library Trustee from 1944 to 1950.

MINERVA C. FARROW, 198 Highland Ave.

As the first woman candidate for state representative, Mrs. Farrow waged a campaign which, although unsuccessful by a narrow margin, political experts rated among the best, and which non-political experts praised for its high level. Many town officials over the past years (and currently) are indebted to her, in part, for their successful election.

JOSEPH DONNELLY, 93 Grafton Street

As president of the Arlington Spy Pond Rod and Reel Association, he was the "backbone and hardest working" member of the 1952 Fishing Derby at Spy Pond last May which drew 500 children. He is a member of the Boys' Club Associates and inaugurated classes at the club for boys to learn fly tying, bait casting, and other fisherman's skills.

HAROLD N. MAGNUSON, 10 Upland Road

His efficient and fair conduct of the Town Meetings, as moderator for the past two years, through stormy and lengthy sessions with their mazes of parliamentary procedure, has brought him this nomination. Cited also were the calibre of his official committee appointments. On the partisan level, he is president of the Town Republican Committee.

A few conclusions can be reached from these "spontaneous" nominations.

"Arlingtonians" are found in no one section, under any particular faith, or political camp.

We suspect, too, that the real Arlingtonian was not even nominated. He is the man and woman who is struggling along in the face of rising costs to give the kids the best there is, who shells out his share for every drive, takes his part in church activities, knows the score locally and at least knows there is a town government and that he is partly responsible for shaping it. As a matter of fact, to this group for the most part the nominees listed truly belong. They are the average good citizen whose work happened to be noticed.

Note — Quotation marks in the above sketches denote words and phrases quoted from nomination letters submitted by interested town people over the past four weeks.

THE FIRST OF 13,000 CARDS

Gerald Carroll hands the first of 13,000 March of Dimes cards to Roger A. McGinnis, Arlington's Postmaster, as Francis A. Coughlin of the local March of Dimes staff looks on. Cards were mailed to all Arlington families this week. Return your card NOW to help a child walk again.

MRS. RUSSELL T. HAMLET, 15 Victoria Road

Known to the whole town as "the blood donor lady", Mrs. Hamlet is chairman of the Red Cross Blood Recruiting program. Her other community activities include the Social Service League of which she is secretary. She has the drive which most males like to think they possess yet tempered with an utterly feminine charm—a powerful combination.

DANIEL J. MCFADDEN, 75 Webster Street

His "efficient and imaginative work" as Superintendent of the Park Department, won him this nomination. Under him, parks and playgrounds have become not just open areas but peopled with hundreds of youngsters. The annual parade of playground children in the spring is an eye-filling spectacle. He has instituted programs for all townspeople—from three to three score years of age. He is Civil Defense director of Arlington. Many firmly believe he would make a fine town manager, except that the provisions of the act call for at least three years experience.

FREDERICK S. GLYNN JR., 91 Valentine Road

Ever a controversial figure, Mr. Glynn was nominated for bringing the East Arlington Branch Library—a project which he resurrected from defeat on the Town Meeting floor when he was not even a TM member. Now, as Library Trustee, he can always be counted upon to champion the underdog—whether an individual or a cause.

CHARLES SMALL, 14 Arlmont Street

Co-chairman of the successful Red Feather drive, recently concluded, he is also president of the Boys' Club Associates, and executive secretary of the Arlington Chamber of Commerce. A quiet worker, his accomplishments speak for themselves.

WALLACE GORTON, 71 Quincy Street

As local chairman of the Salvation Army drive, he has twice conducted fund drives so successfully that the quotas assigned to the town were reached without outward difficulty. An active member of the Men's Class of the First Baptist Church, Mr. Gorton was nominated for his "outstanding organizational ability."

ROBERT H. ZWICKER, 83 Edmund Road

Probably there is no man in town who is more constantly thinking of civic improvement than Mr. Zwickler. He corresponds with authorities all over the country on various phases of civic and governmental activity. He is seen at numerous hearings and lends his voice and efforts to anyone who he believes is striving for a better Arlington.

JOHN BUCKLEY, 16 Wollaston Avenue

He was named for his "civic efforts", particularly as president of the Little League. His generosity in time as well as material aid for any and all good causes is proverbial. Hundreds of boys and girls, regardless of creed or race, look upon him as godfather. A fraternal brother called him "the most influential member of the local Lodge of Elks."

JAMES C. DOYLE, 23 Chester Street

Mr. Doyle was nominated for his leadership in bringing the Town Manager Act to Arlington. He served as chairman of that committee. He carried on in spite of pressure, prejudices, unfavorable comment and animosity from high places on Beacon Hill. [The Advocate asked him to resign at one point—Ed.] Although an unsuccessful candidate, twice for local office, he always stands ready to do the best job he can when called upon.

4th Degree Knights

Hold New Year's Party

The 4th Degree Knights of Columbus held a successful New Year's Eve party last week at Odd Fellows hall. Co-Chairmen
William F. McDonald and Thomas Keefe were in charge of arrangements.

The organization of 4th Degree Knights was formed last year. There are 20 charter members composed of all those eligible in Arlington. John F. Scott was elected president, Nicholas
P. Ryan, secretary and William
F. McDonald, treasurer.

Aim of the new fraternal club is to offer aid to certain civic projects, to advance a helping hand when needed and to offer to its members a few social gatherings throughout the year. Officers plan at least four meetings annually.

Local DeMolays Greet The New Year At Dance

Members of Arlington Chapter of DeMolay and their friends welcomed in the New Year at a dance and party held at Park Avenue Congregational church.
About forty couples danced to the music of Dick Madison's orchestra in the gaily decorated hall.

Ted Martin was general chairman, while Buzz Fleming was in charge of the tickets. David Ryder had charge of the decorations and favors.

Members of the advisory board and their wives served the refreshments.

Master Councilor-elect Richard Van Iderstine, announced that the next installation will be held in the Town Hall on Jan. 10 at 8 p.m. In addition to the usual ritual, the DeMolay Majority Degree will be performed on the Chapter's older members who have attained twenty-one years of age. The public is invited.

Albert W. Held Jr., aviation electronics technician second class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs.
Albert Held of 32 Cornell street, is serving in the Korean zone aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Oriskany with Attack Squadron 923.

The "Skyraider" attack bombers of VA-923 are pounding Communist troops, supply concentrations and other targets in the combat zone. When not on missions of this type, they lend a helping hand to the Army and Marine ground troops by bombing and strafing the enemy's front line positions.

Recently, three Panther jets of the Oriskany shot down two MiGs and damaged two others only 35 miles distant from the Task Force.

of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Gahm, days in Japan on a rest and recuperation leave from the 2nd

The vacation was part of the Army's policy of giving periodic rests to soldiers in the combat zone. Luxurious "R and R" hotels are located throughout Japan to accommodate the veterans.

Private First Class Gahm, a

ARLINGTONIANS OF THE YEAR

There is no doubt that some will be disappointed that a single individual has not been named as the Arlingtonian of the Year 1952. We confess that this was our original intention when the Advocate first asked for nominations. However, as the names began coming in, it soon became apparent that the selection of an individual was not only impossible but most undesirable—in all fairness. Those sincerely nominated by their fellow townsmen proved to be people of widely varying interests and endeavors—from top local brass to the industrious housewife in fields ranging through the religious, civic and political life of Arlington. Which, then, would you choose?

It can be fairly and safely said that none of the activities of the nominees had world-wide impact, which is the basis of one well-known "man of the year" selection. We became increasingly convinced that we are not able to make the single choice, neither did we wish it to become a mere popularity contest by asking our readers to ballot.

As it is said elsewhere in this issue in the concluding paragraph under the brief sketches of the Arlingtonians of the Year, "probably the 'real' Arlingtonian was not even nominated" meaning there are hundreds of true citizens who are playing an obscure, yet important role in shaping our destiny.

However, we are on safe ground when we congratulate all of this year's "Arlingtonians" and commend the intelligence of those townspeople who nominated them.

On behalf of all the people of the Town, we extend to them a sincere "well done."

RUSSELL SCHOOL SITE

In last week's issue the Advocate suggested a new site for the new Russell school building—near the present Cemetery playground.

The emphasis should be on the word "suggested" as opposed to "propose". We have no axe to grind on any site except that we are definitely opposed to the present location (which the Committee proposes to use).

We suspect that with the housing project and the dense population located northeast of Warren street, that the center of population is probably in that direction. However, here there is little available land without resorting to eminent domain proceedings. One reader has suggested the Moore farm on River street.

An important decision must be made now, the results of which will extend over the next fifty years. It is imperative that the right course of action be chosen.

To us, the choice of the present site does not face realities. In order to raise money to build this new school, and others that are already needed, more sources of tax revenue must be found.

The homeowner is already well burdened. It seems to us, then, that these new sources must come from business ventures. Business can stand a steady increase of taxes if it experiences a growing volume of trade.

One of the essential factors for business growth is proper location. The Russell School and common area provides a logical area to allow this growth.

Let's provide this opportunity.

WHAT ARE THE PLANS?

As time moves along rapidly toward the annual Town Meeting, we believe the citizens as well as the town meeting members are entitled to be informed as to what the various committees will propose.

In our opinion it is much too late to submit a report at the opening session and then expect to have an intelligent vote on the subject that same session or the following one. Further, the taxpayer has no chance at all to tell his representative how he should vote.

By and large the Town Meeting has had a record of pretty intelligent voting, but some bad blunders have occurred due to the lack of time for study by the voting members.

There are, currently, fifteen town committees in action. The proposals of only a very few have been made public. We invite the chairmen of these committees to make use of the Advocate's columns for advance information.

The following committees are understandably quiet because their job has been or will be completed soon or is dependent upon some other action: central purchasing, Bishop school, town manager, Russell school improvement, and rules on town meetings.

The following have made some effort to inform the public: new Russell school and Pennsylvania tax plan. One committee is more or less perpetual: personnel board.

The others which, we feel, should make public their considerations are: advanced programming and budgeting, alteration in building code (incidentally, authorized in 1946), town hall building, special compensation to town officers and employees, disposal of Junior High Industrial Arts, fire prevention code, garaging town-owned vehicles.

Jesus Dispel Fear

Lesson: Matthew 14: 22-33

Golden Text: Matthew 14: 27

"Freedom from fear," one of the "Four Freedoms" of which we have heard much in recent years, may be ranked as one of the finest that can be enjoyed by any man or group of men. The true believer in Christ can enjoy such freedom to the full.

Upon leaving the sequestered place on the northeastern shore of Galilee, Jesus went up into a mountain to pray. Afterward, he sent unto the disciples, walking on the sea. The disciples had been sent by boat before him and had come into tempestuous winds. As they looked out through the inky blackness and thought they saw a ghost, they were greatly frightened. But Jesus at once spoke to them and gave them words of assurance.

Then Peter went down out of the ship to go on the water to Jesus. For the moment he exhibited a great faith in the Lord, but he looked away from Jesus and began to sink.

As long as men keep their eyes upon Jesus, they need not give way to fear—fear of anything in time or eternity. Men are safe in the care of Jesus, they are safe in his friendship and love. As men have always been subject to some kind of fear, let them look to Jesus and trust him for grace and strength to sustain them in all the difficulties, toils and dangers that beset mankind.

WE CAN understand the reluctance of France to join the Fascist Dictator Franco's Spain a full brother in the NATO family of nations.

Spain was an ally of Germany in an underhanded way all during the last world war. By not declaring war against the Allies, she hypocritically gained for herself the rating of a neutral. But all the time Franco was dealing secretly with Hitler and Mussolini for the subjugation of the Democracies.

France feels that any extra money NATO may have to distribute for the defense of Europe should go to some of the countries that gave a better accounting of themselves when the free world was a war against the Fascists.

Also, the heroes of France's fight for the Allies don't like to see a Fascist-minded country hailed as a big defender of Democracy and France, with her hands full in Indo-China and North Africa, slandered as a slacker. They feel that Spain was the slacker in the last war.

Another reason that the followers of democracy don't like to see Spain sided is that they feel any money or supplies sent to Franco only helps him keep his corrupt economy on an even keel and help perpetuate a Fascist regime.

Most of the people in this country urging help for Franco are Fascist-minded themselves and jump at the chance to call any detractors of Franco Communists. Many of them have been special guests of Franco and have been fed and wine and urged to carry back to this country proclamations of the dictator's undying friendship for the "free world."

DALE CARNEGIE

AUTHOR OF "HOW TO STOP WORRYING AND START LIVING"

This, Too, Will Pass

ANDREW BABAYAN, Chicago, left Iran and came to America to make his home. But all did not go well. He was homesick and he worried about the job that he left in Persia which he really loved. He had been a successful dentist in his own country and had everything that average people would like to have. He owned his own home, a car, had a good position, and a very good business of which he was proud because it was the result of his hard work for fifteen years.

Two weeks after arriving in this country, he had to face the fact that he could not be a dentist anymore because he couldn't get a license. He didn't know what he was going to do in a country where he had no friends and no business acquaintances. An optimist by nature, he now fell to such depths of desperation that life became a living Hell. He could think of nothing but his job and position—both lost. He saw no hope for the future. Even his family life was near the breaking point, because his wife was the cause of their leaving Iran. So he accused her of that. He neither wanted to see anyone nor to leave his house.

With these dark thoughts he kept to his bed for a whole week. At the end of the week he started to realize that he could not endure life like this any longer. He said to himself, "Andy, if you continue to see your life in such dark colors, you'll be lost. Make an end to this. Think about your wife and your beautiful daughter. Remember what you used to tell others: 'Take it easy. Time is the best physician. The worry will go with the passing of time.'" Then he decided to get a job—any kind of job only to keep busy and so not have time to worry. He decided to make friends in order not to be alone with his thoughts. He decided to forget what he once was and to face what he had become, remembering the words of the ancient Persian kings who said, "This too will pass."

He declares that he is now one of the happiest human beings on earth.

SIT-DOWN STRIKE . . . A sit-down strike in Tokyo by railroad employees in one of a series of outbreaks bringing labor unrest to the Japanese capital.

Kuwait Ponders What to Do With $150,000,000 a Year

His Highness Abdullah as Salim en Subah, Sheikh of Kuwait, faces one of the world's most pleasant problems—what to do with an income of $150,000,000 a year.

No income taxes cut into this bonanza. There are no restrictions on what he might buy—polo ponies or palaces, gold-plated limousines or block-long yachts.

But instead, Abdullah Salim is wisely turning his sudden wealth into a far better way of life for 170,000 people in an ancient and neglected part of the world. A remarkable transformation is taking place in the tiny sunbaked Sheikhdom of Kuwait at the head of the Persian Gulf, the National Geographic Magazine reports in an article by Near East traveler Paul Edward Case.

Kuwait rests on a virtual ocean of oil. Beneath its sands are an estimated 16 billion barrels of black gold—a proved petroleum reserve roughly half that of the United States.

Tapping this pool at a current rate of 800,000 barrels a day, the Kuwait Oil Company, pays the Sheikhdom an even 50 per cent of all profits.

By dynastic law the Sheikh receives this money as personal income. He alone decides what to do with it all. In the last few years, his enlightened decisions have given a once-backward country new hospitals, schools, a modern water supply, and an enviable position as potential banker of the Near East.

Boom has come in no uncertain terms to Kuwait's mud-walled capital, also named Kuwait. Shiny cars, trucks and giant earth-moving machinery rumble through busy bazaars among camels and goats. Arabs in flowing robes, nomadic Bedouins and veiled Kuwaiti women mingle with roustabouts from Texas and Oklahoma and businessmen from London. Kuwait works today at the tempo of Times Square transplanted to the desert.

There are many signs left of the old way of life. While tankers gulp oil from a 4,000-foot pier extending into the Gulf from the new-born port-city, Mena' al Ahmadi, Kuwait shipwrights still shape teak logs with hand axes into improvised chows for pearling, fishing and trading.

Behind the teak gates of Kuwait town, new cement-block buildings are replacing mud houses beside widened, asphalt streets. A new 1,200,000-gallon-a-day distillation plant will suck water from the Gulf, providing the city as well with its first major source of electric power.

THIS WEEK IN Washington

THE SUPREME COURT has been asked to decide whether having separate schools for Negro and white children violates the Constitution.

The defenders of the present system say that if both races receive equal facilities in the public schools of a state, there is no discrimination.

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, which is leading the fight against segregated schools, declares that "Segregation impairs the educational development of its victims."

"Race as a factor in the selection of students for admission to public schools," the association contends, "is a constitutional irrelevance, which cannot be justified as a classification based upon any real difference which has pertinence to a valid legislative objective."

Segregation in itself is discrimination, the association argues, and therefore violates the 14th Amendment to the Constitution, which says no state may deny any person the equal protection of the laws.

Harry Truman may not have shown much political acumen when he called the high-flying Ike a demagogue for going to Korea. But you cannot doubt the President's sincerity or that he spoke his truth feelings. Here are a reporter's questions and Truman's direct answers in which he called Ike a demagogue.

Q.—Mr. President, I want to get it straight. You said you thought it would serve no good purpose, it was just a piece of demagoguery and that is what it turned out to be!

A.—That was correct, that was correct.

Q.—The current trip that is on now is a piece of demagoguery!

A.—Yes, the announcement of that trip was a piece of demagoguery and then, of course, he (General Eisenhower) had to make it. He had made the statement and he had to take the trip.

Mrs. Roosevelt was not being catty when she said that Mamie Eisenhower would be better dressed than she was when she went into the White House. What Mrs. Roosevelt meant was that now the country enjoys more prosperity than it did when the Roosevelts entered the White House—in the middle of a Hoover depression.

Adlai Stevenson received a letter informing him that the reason he was defeated by Ike was that Ike has more sex appeal than Adlai and all the women voted for the general. This letter was publicized by a column in a Chicago newspaper. Now that columnist's desk is piled high with letters from women declaring that Stevenson has more sex appeal than Ike. One woman says, "I think Adlai is as cute as a bug's ear."

From the Toledo Union Leader, Toledo, Ohio.

A fascinating human-interest drama unfolded in the federal court in Toledo the other day. It appeared that one George W. Sponsler had pleaded guilty to taking $7,500 from the bank for which he had worked and had ultimately repaid it but the judge was more angry with the accuser than the accused.

Judge Kloebe noted that Sponsler had worked for the First National Bank of North Baltimore, Ohio for 32 years. He began at $20 a week and in 1942 his salary had increased to the magnificent sum of $36.50. Between 1920 and 1941, Sponsler took small sums from the bank which he used to keep his family going.

Judge Frank Kloebe was so incensed at the officials of the bank who kept Sponsler "living like a pauper," that he let loose: "If I had the authority I would sentence the bank's officials to read the story of Scrooge at Christmas-time." And the judge went on to observe, "If the bank was decent, when this shortage was discovered it would have marked off the loss from its surplus funds without any publicity or embarrassment to this man." And to Sponsler, he said, "I am sorry you are here."

Judge Kloebe placed the defendant on indefinite probation.

All of which means that paying miserly wages, that taking undue advantage of other human beings in financial affairs and placing corporate and personal profit ahead of the welfare of people, can be as great a crime as theft.

From The Advertiser-Sun, Ann Arbor, Michigan:

Perhaps you have been one of many people interested in the thrilling Swiss mountain climbing attempt of Mt. Everest—the unconquered mountain of India.

We have learned via reports last weekend that the group, which started their climb on November 20, failed short of its goal by only 150 feet.

This is the furthest that anyone has ever climbed the gigantic mountain, estimated to be almost 30,000 feet in height.

We have been particularly interested in the efforts of one fellow, Raymond Lambert, who like other "Gets-in-my-blood" mountain climbers, had an obsession to reach the top of the mount.

Although others must have been saddened by their defeat at the hands of terrific adverse elements of nature, Lambert must have been especially crestfallen.

Lambert a headstrong German, who has spent his life outside of fighting in German wars—climbing mountains, wanted to reach the top of the mount more than anything else. He failed before.

FAVORITE RECIPES IN LOCAL KITCHENS

Mrs. Nils Alsen of 9 Jason ter. contributes a favorite cookie recipe which she says she has used regularly for many years, because they can be "stirred together quickly." When she has "rendered chicken fat" she says she likes to use it for the shortening.

DROP COOKIES

3/4 cup shortening
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
2 cups flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon soda
4 teaspoons cold water
1 1/2 teaspoons lemon or vanilla extract

Cream shortening and sugar. Add eggs and beat well. Mix soda with water and add alternately with sifted flour and salt. Add flavoring.

Drop by teaspoonfuls on greased cookie sheet. Sprinkle with either sugar, cinnamon, chopped nuts, coconut or dates. Bake in 350 degree oven about 10 minutes. Makes about 60 cookies.

Comfortable Bathroom: Happy Day

An extra supply of towels conveniently at hand speeds up the early-morning bathroom rush. Big sister is carrying Cannon's new "Marseilles."

To start your family off happily each morning, it is important to make the early bathroom ritual quick and pleasant. Especially in a one-bathroom home, split-second timing is required for dad's shaving, big sister's shower, and the children hurrying off to school.

You can solve this situation, by having all the essential bathroom necessities conveniently at hand. This avoids the familiar "Where's my towel?" or "I can't find the soap, mother."

A few extra storage shelves in the bathroom, suggests the Cannon Homemaking Institute, will go a long way toward smoothing the morning rush. These shelves hold bath towels, hand towels and washcloths, within easy reach of shower, tub or basin. The regular family linen closet, as always holds the complete household supply.

If you are planning to build a new home, add an extra bathroom or remodel your present one, remember to include two or three recessed shelves. Whether open or behind glass, they will prove helpful savers of time and energy.

Another idea is to build a set of hanging shelves of glass or wood, to hold this handy supply of extra bath and hand towels.

Wm. Patterson, Tea Bag Inventor, In Selectman Race

William S. Patterson, of 24 Stony Brook rd., has filed papers to run for the office of Selectman for a term of two years. By selecting this term he challenges George A. Harris and Thomas R. Rawson.

Those sponsoring him feel he can bring executive experience and business knowledge to this board.

He has been a resident of Arlington for the past 28 years. He established the William S. Patterson Co. in Arlington at 6 Schouler court. He was a pioneer in the tea bag manufacturing industry and most of the tea bags used today are made on high speed machines of his invention. He sold his business in 1951 and retired.

It is pointed out that he has been chairman of many local committees from Boy Scouts to his most recent, one of raising money and building the new wing on the First Baptist church. He was one of the original group that established the Community Chest in Arlington. He served on the Town Finance Committee from 1937 to 1939.

He was chairman of the Playground Planning Committee from 1938 to 1945 which planned and helped develop the five major playgrounds. He instigated the taking of land which is now the Summer Street Playground and in so doing averted a costly sewerage problem for the town, it is said.

During World War II he was chairman of a War Service Committee which kept in touch with young people in the armed services. He is a veteran of World War I and a long-time member of Post 39, American Legion.

"I am extremely interested in the Town Manager Plan and would like to see Arlington give it a good try," Mr. Patterson declared.

Mr. Patterson is the husband of the well known Sue Patterson. They have a son, Stewart, who is attending school.

"Silence" On Korea By "Organized" Religion Scored By Minister

Last Sunday the Rev. George J. W. Pennington, pastor of the Universalist Church, was heard in a sermon on the subject of "The Religious News Of 1952".

"With the exception of statements from the Vatican, which have had more or less bearing on Korea, with the exception of evangelist Billy Graham's and Cardinal Spellman's Christmas trips to Korea, organized religion has been awkwardly silent regarding one of the greatest fiascos in the warring history of man," stated the Rev. George J. W. Pennington, pastor of the Universalist Church, in last Sunday's sermon.

The sermon, a presentation of the outstanding events in the world of organized religion in the past year, concluded with this note on Korea. Said the minister, "It is the first time that organized religion has so quietly sat by and let so many mother's sons die, to the bewilderment of so many, for so much purposelessness, in payment of previous errors so great, in a condition which is neither a fight fought like war, nor a truce kept like peace. Perhaps organized religion doesn't know what to say," the pastor continued, "but it is saying something by its silence."

This Sunday will be observed as Exchange Sunday, sponsored by the Arlington Ministers' Association and an announced guest minister will officiate. Mr. Pennington will serve in another Arlington Church.
